

JAPANESE TROOPS OCCUPY MANILA

Defending Forces in Last-Ditch Stand Outside Capital

U. S. Naval Base At Cavite Is Also Reported Deserted

By the Associated Press
Japanese troops have occupied Manila, the war department announced today, as American and Filipino troops outside the capital battled the invaders in a grim last-ditch stand.
At the same time, the navy reported the U. S. naval base at Cavite, 10 miles southwest of Manila on Manila Bay, was evacuated before the Japanese entered the capital.
General Douglas MacArthur's bold stroke in uniting his armies, which had been fighting separately north and south of Manila, along with the consequent shortening of U. S. defense lines, "necessarily uncovered the road to Manila and made possible the Japanese entrance into the city," a Washington communique explained.
The Japanese declared that the defenders had fallen back to the fortress island of Corregidor and the mountainous Bataan Peninsula for a "last stand" after giving up Manila.
The war department said advanced elements of the Mikado's invasion hordes entered the city at 3 p. m., Manila time (1 a. m. EST).
"The loss of Manila, while serious, has not lessened the resistance to the Japanese attacks," the war department said.
The fall of the Philippine capital, which General MacArthur last week designated as open and undefended, came two days after the deadline on a Japanese boast that they would take Manila "before New Year's."
American soldiers and marines had evacuated the city and today were reported mounting strong positions in the jungles along a 200-mile defense area against overwhelming Japanese invasion hordes pressing from the north and south.

RECAPTURE OF BARDIA CLAIMED BY THE BRITISH

By the Associated Press
Russia's Red armies were reported smashing at German-held Moshaisk, the last of the great threats to Moscow, after Adolf Hitler had rushed to the front in an attempt to halt the retreat of his battered invasion forces.
Moshaisk is 57 miles west of Moscow.
Stockholm dispatches said the German's new headquarters were established near Smolensk, 180 miles behind the fighting zone.
New Soviet triumphs were reported by the Red army command, which announced the recapture of Staritsa, an important rail and Volga river city 125 miles northwest of Moscow, and Kaluga, 110 miles southwest of the capital.
The fall of Staritsa, marking a 45-mile sweep southwest from Kalinin, placed the Russians only 30 miles north of the Volga river port of Rzev, a key rail town.
Red army vanguards were reported only a few miles from Moshaisk, while Soviet artillery shelled German defenders of the city.
On the North African front, British Middle East headquarters announced the recapture of Bardia, long-besieged Axis stronghold near the Libyan-Egyptian frontier, along with more than 1,000 German and Italian prisoners.
In addition, 1,000 British prisoners who had been held there were released.
A British military spokesman said that the bulk of General Erwin Rommel's retreating armor, 90 miles south of Benghazi, but that because of bad weather conditions (Turn to Page Eleven)

ALIENS TO SURRENDER CAMERAS AND RADIOS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 2 (AP)—Western Pennsylvania officials made arrangements today for a roundup of cameras and short wave radio equipment owned by aliens.
The action was taken under instructions received by Assistant U. S. Attorney Morris D. Cauter from Washington. Details were incomplete but it was announced that temporarily the plans would move on the assumption that the equipment over to police, who would coordinate it pending receipt of further instructions.

THUNDERCLAP CAUSES A MINOR BOMB SCARE

Philadelphia, Jan. 2 (AP)—A thunderclap shattered the stillness a few hours before dawn here today, awakening hundreds of sleepers and creating a minor bomb scare.
Scores of telephone calls poured into the electrical bureau and subway police stations, inquiring whether the city was under attack from the air.
The peal sounded like a loud explosion.

RATIONING OF CARS IS PROPOSED

Sale of Passenger Automobiles and Trucks is Prohibited Throughout the United States Under Government Orders Mobilizing Entire Industry for War Production Only

THOUSANDS WILL BE THROWN OUT OF WOK

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Sale of new passenger cars and trucks was prohibited throughout the United States today under government orders mobilizing the entire American automobile industry for war production only.
To put the country's army on wheels and give it the guns, planes and tanks to fight with, the factories which in peacetime made four times as many automobiles as the rest of the world put together will be required to halt all manufacture of new cars and light trucks for civilian use "within a few weeks," it was announced.
The 450,000 passenger cars and the light and heavy trucks now in stock with dealers can be bought only by government lend-lease and the most essential civilian users. Pending establishment of a rationing system to handle distribution of these automobiles, the purchase, sale and delivery of all new cars and trucks is prohibited.
The rationing set-up is expected to be in operation by Jan. 15. It will be supervised by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, whose office yesterday imposed drastic (Turn to Page Six)

CHINESE FIGHT A LOSING BATTLE NEAR CHANGSHA

BY SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 2 (AP)—Japanese occupation of the northern suburbs of Changsha, Hunan province capital and silk center, was acknowledged by the Chinese today as fighting in a shifting battle for possession of the city raged without a pause.
A Chinese communique said the battle in northern Hunan province was in its final stages and Chinese soldiers were fiercely resisting attacks on the outer defenses of Changsha.
Japanese troops supported by aircraft forced their way across the Liuyang river into the suburbs yesterday, the Chinese central news agency reported. Simultaneously, Japanese war planes attacked the heart of the city, dropping bombs and machine-gunning the streets.
The main battle for Changsha was in progress on the plains just northeast of the city of 300,000 population.
Casualties on both sides were said to be enormous.
The Chinese also were engaged in bloody hand-to-hand fighting in the next eastward province of Kiangsi and were reported directly attacking the wine-making city of Shaoxing in the coastal province of Chekiang roughly 500 miles (Turn to Page Six)

London, Jan. 2 (AP)—The United States navy today opened the first American campaign for American enlisted men in a building supplied by the Duke of Westminster.
Berlin, Jan. 2 (Official broadcast received by AP)—The German radio said today Japanese ships cruised before Manila had shelled fortifications and harbor facilities of Manila and Cavite in the past few days.
Sydney, Australia, Jan. 2 (AP)—Darwin, the major port on the north coast of Australia, experienced a two-hour alert early today but no Japanese planes appeared. It was the city's second air raid alarm of the war.

London, Jan. 2 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Canberra today said Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia had confirmed indirectly reports that the Allies were considering appointing Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell as commander in chief of land forces in the Pacific war.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 2 (AP)—Royal Australian air force fighters started fires and damaged enemy personnel and buildings in the Pacific war.
The Chief executive merely told reporters to be on the watch for it. He did not even say it would be important, although it was a natural assumption that it would be significant since he went to the trouble of disclosing in advance that some announcement would be made.

77th Congress Ends First Session Today

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The first session of the seventy-seventh congress which voted billions for defense and declared war on Germany, Italy and Japan, adjourned today shortly after the loss of Manila was announced by the war department.
Both houses met at noon. The senate lasted 22 minutes, during which Senator Connally (D-Texas) told his colleagues that Manila would be recaptured when the United States was fully prepared.
The house was in session for 46 minutes. There the closing speeches reflected the historic events of recent weeks, the call for sacrifices ahead, and the likelihood of curtailment of some peacetime government functions in the future.
Rep. Robert Rich (R-Pa.) declared that two and one half billion dollars worth of "non-essential" government functions built up in recent years "could be eliminated without loss."

SURVEY SHOWS 265 LIVES LOST DURING HOLIDAY

Automobile Accidents, Falls, Shootings and Other Violent Means Take Large Toll in Connection With Observance FIVE IN BOMBER CRASH

By the Associated Press
A total of 265 persons lost their lives over the New Year's holiday in automobile accidents, drownings, falls, shootings and by other violent means, a nationwide survey showed today.
Automobile accidents accounted for 171 of the total. An army bomber crash on Long Island took five lives and three laborers were killed when a bomber lost a wheel and swerved from a concrete runway into a group of laborers at a Virginia airfield.
Two Ute Indian brothers froze to death after their automobile stalled within a mile of their Utah home. In Fort Worth, Tex., a Mexican and four of his children perished in their burning home.
Three guards in a Massachusetts prison farm were slain by two inmates. Two hunters died in Ohio and a tornado killed one person in Tennessee.
The New Year's figures compared with a national total of 431 for the Christmas holiday, of which 334 deaths were in traffic, 97 elsewhere.

Ohio recorded the largest New Year's total, 28, of which 22 were in traffic mishaps. Illinois' total was 24 and New York's 21. The list of states (traffic figure first, miscellaneous causes second) includes: New Jersey, 5 and 3; New York, 10 and 11; Pennsylvania, 13 and 4; West Virginia, 1 and 2. Seventeen persons were killed as Pennsylvania ushered in the new year.

Thirteen died in highway mishaps, one was shot, another burned to death, and two others fatally hurt in various types of accidents. One of the victims was 12-year-old John Dey, Jr., who hesitated too long to jump from the flaming second story of his Philadelphia home into a blanket held by (Turn to Page Six)

Dec. 8—War begins (Dec. 8, Manila time, Dec. 7, U. S. time); armed forces go on alert. Japanese bombers range over military bases and ports the length of the Philippines, but no raid yet on Manila; soldiers round up 5,000 Japanese.

Dec. 9—First air raid alarm in Manila sounds at 12:10 a. m.

Dec. 10—Japanese land at Aparri and Vigan, 250 and 200 miles from Manila; intense excitement but no panic in city; Japanese bombers raid Nichols air field, Fort William McKinley and Nielson airport district.

Dec. 11—Japanese landing at Lingayen, most likely beach for offensive against Manila, reported under control. Japanese battleship Haruna sunk by bombs from plane of Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., who was killed. Kelly first war hero.

MESSAGE ON BUDGET FINISHED

Contents of Book Consisting of One Thousand Pages of Small Type, Are Kept Secret and Guarded to Prevent Premature Disclosure Before Presentation to Congress Next Week

SPENDING RATE FOR YEAR ALMOST DOUBLED

By IRVING PERLMETER
Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The first United States war budget, calling for the greatest spending effort in world annals, went to the printers today.
President Roosevelt and Budget Director Harold D. Smith, after working through the New Year's holiday, sent out a few pages of the history-making document to print out in type. Those final pages are practically done, too, but were held for possible last minute changes.
Contents of the budget—a book of about 1,000 pages of small type—were still secret and guarded to prevent premature disclosure before presentation to congress some day next week.
But the president already has hinted publicly at war costs of $50,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year (the 12 months beginning July 1, 1942), indicating a total federal budget of roughly $55,000,000,000 after allowing for non-military activities.
That will approximately double (Turn to Page Six)

THREE OFFICERS AT STATE PRISON FARM ARE SLAIN

Bridgewater, Mass., Jan. 2 (AP)—The New Year's day bludgeoning of three unarmed guards by two inmates of the Bridgewater state prison farm was attributed today by District Attorney Edmund R. Deving to faults in the institution's set-up.
The inmates, gassed and clubbed into submission after setting bedding and holding guards and state policeman at bay for almost two hours in an apparent escape attempt, were taken to the farm hospital, where it was said they probably would recover.

While asserting he favored the present rule forbidding guards from carrying guns, Deving told newspapermen he believed the guards should be permitted to carry concealed clubs or blackjacks.
He said the pay of the guards was $16 to $24 a week—was too low to attract young, capable men to the (Turn to Page Eleven)

JOINT SOLIDARITY PACT DISCUSSED

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Ambassadors and ministers of anti-Axis nations came to the state department today to sign what Panamanian Ambassador Juan G. G. described as a joint pact of solidarity and a pledge that none of the nations would sign a separate peace.
The state department declined to make any comment but Gaudin said he believed terms of the resolution would be revealed in detail as soon as representatives of all nations fighting Japan, Germany and Italy had affixed their signatures.

During the morning representatives of the Dutch, Norwegian, Luxembourg, Belgian and all nine Latin American countries that have declared war on the Axis called at the office of Adolph A. Berle, Jr., assistant secretary of state, to sign the resolution.
The Panamanian ambassador said the resolution had designations for 26 or 27 signatures.
Latin American nations that have declared war on the Axis are Panama, the Dominican Republic, Honduras, Cuba, El Salvador, Haiti, Guatemala, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica.

ESPIONAGE RING MEMBERS GIVEN LONG SENTENCES

Former Employee of the Norden Company, Manufacturers of Bombsights, Goes to the Penitentiary For Twenty Years

MANY UNAPPREHENDED

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Heavy prison sentences were imposed today in Brooklyn federal court on the last of 27 persons involved in a world-wide espionage ring.
Judge Mortimer W. Eysen had before him 14 persons connected December 12 of conspiracy to avoid registering as agents of Germany and conspiracy to deliver to Germany vital American defense secrets, and 19 others who pleaded guilty to one or both counts. Maximum possible sentences on the two counts was 22 years.
Herman Lang, 39, one-time employee of the Norden Company, manufacturer of bombsights, was sentenced to 20 years, two years on the first count and 18 years on the second, the terms to run concurrently. Lang was one of those convicted.

SUPPLIES REMOVED FROM CITY

War and Navy Departments At Washington State That Military and Naval Equipment Had Been Taken Away or Destroyed Before Arrival of Advance Units of the Enemy

LOSS DOES NOT LESSEN RESISTANCE OF FORCES

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Manila and the nearby naval base of Cavite fell to the Japanese today.
Both places, the war and navy department said, had been evacuated of military and naval supplies and equipment before advance units of the enemy arrived.
"The loss of Manila, while serious, has not lessened the resistance to the Japanese attacks," the war department said.
At Manila all military installations were removed or destroyed when the capital of the Philippines was declared an open city, and all troops, both Filipino and United States, were removed, the war department said.
The navy said all equipment, records and stores not destroyed by Japanese bombers had been removed from Cavite, but that the naval hospital personnel remained to care for the wounded.
The advanced units of the Japanese entered Manila at 3 p. m. (1 a. m. EST) the war department said.
The navy had more than $25,000,000 worth of property and supplies on hand in the Philippines in June this year, most of it centered around Cavite.
This total does not consider how much material had been sent there from June 30 to the opening of hostilities December 7. Neither did it include the value of planes and ships and other fighting equipment.
American-Filipino troops were said to be occupying strong position north of the city and were holding Manila Bay fortifications to prevent use of the harbor by the enemy.

HELP ON WAY TO MALAYA BRITISH CHIEF DECLARES

BY C. VYTES McDANIEL
Singapore, Jan. 2 (AP)—General Sir Henry D. Pownall, new commander in chief of British forces in the Far East, declared today "considerable help is on the way" to Malaya, a silent Japanese force struck closer to the west coast below the big tin town of Ipoh.
His statement, published in the Malaya newspaper Kuala Lumpur, did not disclose the nature of the help, but said it is intended to fight on a very high of ground down the Malay peninsula.
Fighting already had closed in to approximately 190 miles from Singapore on the east coast, in the Kuantan region, and 275 miles on the west coast in lower Perak province.
It was in lower Perak that the new Japanese forces were loaded and engaged by British defense forces, a communique said.
The war report asserted that "there has been renewed activity in Perak both on the main front and with enemy parties who landed in lower Perak, fighting continues."
Of the east coast, where the (Turn to Page Six)

Woman Foils Thieves At Cost of Her Life

Pittsburgh, Jan. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Abigail M. Jones, 70, saved the lives on her son's automobile at the cost of her life.
From a window in her home at Homestead, Mrs. Jones saw two youths deflating the tires on the machine. The youths fled when Mrs. Jones pounded on the window, but a few minutes later she was stricken fatally by a heart attack, induced by the excitement.
A physician called to attend Mrs. Jones reported the theft of medicine from her car while in the home, and the pocket-book of a daughter who rushed to her mother's bedside was taken from another automobile.

Reverses in Philippines Temporary Legislators in Washington Declare

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Accepting the fall of Manila as inevitable under the circumstances, legislators asserted that when the United States has rallied its full strength the city will be redeemed.
Praising the heroic resistance offered to the Japanese invaders by American and Filipino troops, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, said:
"We have steeled ourselves to expect some temporary reverses until the full force of our power has been developed."
Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee told his colleagues that there was "no cause for depression by reason of the fall of Manila."
"When we get ready," Connally declared, "of course we shall recapture the Philippines."
Other comment:
Senator Nye (R-N.D.): "This is a colossal fulfillment of what we have been told for 15 years would be true in the event of war in the Pacific. I don't doubt but what ultimately we shall redeem ourselves there if we want to do it. It will be a long, hard pull."
Senator Truman (D-Mo.): "It is bound to be temporary."
Senator Davis (R-Pa.): "In the end, the Philippines will be restored to the Filipinos."

GROUND SCHOOL
FIRST MEETING

At the initial meeting of the ground school class of the Civilian Pilot Training program in Warren, to be held this evening at seven o'clock at the Jefferson street school, all C. P. T. students, including those in the present flight class, and all private students at the Warren Airport, have been requested to be on hand to obtain information regarding reinstatements of licenses, it was announced today.

In order to be reinstated, it was stated by V. S. King, airport manager, all pilots must provide birth certificates, baptismal certificates or other satisfactory proof that they were born in the United States, or naturalization papers. All pilots must also have two photographs, passport type, two and one-half inches square, showing complete head, full face, including top of shoulders. In order to fulfill this requirement, a photographer will be on hand this evening to take pictures of those who do not have them. It was stated.

It was announced that an inspector will be in Warren Tuesday, starting at 9 a. m., to reinstate pilots' licenses. The inspector will be at the police station all day to take care of reinstatements, it was announced.

Everybody Helping In Red Cross Drive
For Emergency Fund

Who gives to the Red Cross? The Warren county headquarters this week had another proof of the age-old answer—everybody!

The first: from a Warren woman: "Enclosed find my contribution to the Red Cross."

"I am a daughter of a Civil War veteran, a sister of two Spanish-American War veterans, mother of a World War veteran and the grandmother of three draftees."

And the other from one who came to this county only a short time ago, from a land already under the heel of Hitlerism: "I enclose my donation to the American Red Cross. God bless every American!"

One from an American whose father fought to unite the nation forever under one flag—whose two brothers fought oppression in the name of freedom—whose son carried Democracy's banner in 1917—whose three grandsons stand ready to finish the job and forever free the world from those who would destroy it.

The other from one who only lately—as time is reckoned—came to these shores of freedom, but who is already imbued with the American spirit.

Everyone must help keep the Red Cross banner flying!

Your help is needed—now!

Twelfth Night Observance Planned
Here by Girl Scout Organization

The Christmas season in and around Warren will end in a manner befitting the glory of this year's holiday, when the Warren Chamber of Commerce and the Warren county Girl Scouts again join forces in the celebration of Twelfth Night.

This is the third successive year that the celebration, with the big bonfire of Christmas trees and greens, has been held on Betty playground on January 6. The crowning of the Twelfth Night king and queen and the procession preceding it are both traditional features of Twelfth Night celebrations in England. Ed C. Lowrey, as master of ceremonies, will crown the monarchs who will reign over the festivities.

The king and queen, four pages, a jester and twelve members of the court will be chosen, also in the traditional manner, at a party at the Y. W. C. A. from four to five o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In two tremendous cakes have been baked a Girl Scout pin, a nickel, bells and pennies. Each article signifies that the Girl Scout who finds it in her cake will take the part indicated in the Twelfth Night celebration.

Every Girl Scout and adult in Girl Scouting in Warren county has been invited to come to the party and to take her chance at being included in the royal company for this festive evening.

A sign has been placed near the boundary line between Betty playground and Betty field to show where trees and other decorations are to be thrown, over the bank. Householders are asked to deposit their trees at this point as soon as possible.

Most of the trees received for the bonfire are too small to be of use as fuel. However, the stems of the larger trees will be given free to men who would like to bring axes and cut them out for such use. This should be done on Saturday and on Monday.

Each year, many boys and girls make light work of dragging trees from the bank to the point where the fire will be built.

Older boys pile the trees systematically and everyone has a happy, rollicking time. Girl Scouts and boys are asked to help with this work on Saturday and Monday and Tuesday after school. Details may be learned from the Girl Scout office.

A large crowd of spectators has been present on each of the two previous years. Several thousand people have lined the bank and joined in the throng about the fire. Since the Christmas decorations have been lavish this year, the fire will be spectacular. All Warren and vicinity will want to join in this great celebration.

DO TIME FOR LOVE

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

"Lavinia," said Freddy, "you have beautiful ears."

"All Men Are Poison" Said Lavinia Prentiss— Knowing Absolutely Nothing About Them

Chapter One
Career Girl

ALTHOUGH it was only a small framed sign, Lavinia never got tired looking at it. It stood upon her desk in Armworth's Department store, and it said: L. Prentiss, Assistant Buyer, Toy Department. It had been there for a month, and yet it could still thrill her when she saw it. It gave her a sense of tremendous satisfaction. It was tangible proof that she was at last a highly efficient cog in the human machinery that made the huge store go 'round and 'round.

Further than that, it proved that she had kept faith with her Aunt Dorcas, that she had lived up to what she felt her aunt would expect of her. And that was something to make her feel a warm glow of pride.

She relaxed against the back of the modernistic chair whose upholstery matched the hangings at the tall windows, and let her thoughts drift backward—remembering—

"I'm going to do my best, Lavinia, my dear," her aunt said, "to see that you are equipped to hold your own in a world of struggle and competition. After that, it's entirely up to you."

"Yes, Aunt Dorcas!" she had said, her heart singing. "And I'll make you proud of me, too. You just wait and see!"

"If Aunt Dorcas had said, eyeing her with one brow arched in a quizzical fashion, "you don't fall for some man and end up running his house for him."

"Oh, no!" How earnestly she had said that. "Oh, no, Aunt Dorcas, never! I'm going to be a success in the business or the artistic work—be independent, self-sufficient, just like you."

"That," Aunt Dorcas said, "is what you think at sixteen. I wonder what you'll think ten years from now?"

Well, eight years had passed hadn't they? They had. And she was running a house for a man!—certainly was not. And what's more, she was well on the road toward complete independence—albeit self-sufficiency, and—

"Lavinia," said a masculine voice close by, "you have very beautiful ears."

And Lavinia startled. She turned to see Freddy Rand standing in the doorway. "I do wish you'd stop creeping around like a disreputable spirit."

"It's my rubber heels," said Freddy. He crossed the room and stood looking down at Lavinia. "Well, in his brown eyes, 'You ought to wear your hair like that all the time.'"

Hobby-Horse

LAVINIA stifled. "Freddy," she said, "do please try to remember that this is a business office."

"Lots of girls don't dare uncover their ears," Freddy went on. "But it's a downright crime for you not to."

Ignoring the remark, Lavinia picked up some drawings.

"I presume you came to see these," she said.

"So I did," said Freddy. "I forgot." He leaned close to Lavinia and read aloud the printed words underneath one of the drawings. "Critically Operated Hobby-Horse. The Latest Thing in Toys. He shook his head slowly. "Well, I'll be darned! What will they think of next?"

"I couldn't say," Lavinia replied. "But the point is this—do you feel there'll be much call for a toy like this?"

"Probably," said Freddy somewhat sadly. "No wonder we're rapidly becoming a nation of softies. They won't even let the kiddies operate their own hobby-horses now."

"I've been thinking," said Lavinia in her most businesslike manner, "that the price will be prohibitive. I mean, I don't believe there are many people who can afford such a toy." She studied the drawing for a moment. "It's a luxury—really."

"Of course it is," Freddy agreed. "And it encourages laziness. I wouldn't have the darn thing in the store, if I had my way."

"Well, you don't have your way," said Lavinia. "But since you are on the floor of the toy department most of the time, you should be able to get a pretty definite idea of what people want—what they can afford."

"Yes'm," said Freddy. "I'll discuss the matter with my superior and see what he says. Listen, Lavinia, when are you going out with me?"

"Never!" said Lavinia. "That's an awful long time."

"Yes, I know. Here, take these drawings along with you. They are only cluttering up my desk."

"I'm going to keep on asking you."

"Freddy, please—"

"I'm going to keep on asking you until they have to push me in here in a wheel-chair."

"It's too bad you don't use some of that persistence in your work."

"I do! I had a raise last week."

"Really?" Lavinia was pleased. "Congratulations! I'm glad. I love to see people getting ahead."

"How about celebrating with me?"

"No."

"Damn!" said Freddy. Then he bent and kissed Lavinia soundly upon one of her ears.

"Why—you—you—you!" Lavinia gasped.

"See you later," said Freddy. And he turned and fled, almost colliding with a girl who was just entering.

"Well!" the girl cried. "What on earth happened to Freddy Rand? Then she looked at Lavinia. "I suppose you froze him out as usual."

She walked over to where Lavinia was sitting. "My, is your face red?"

"Lavinia's eyes flashed. "The idea of a grown man—and a widower at that!—acting like a perfect idiot!" she said.

"What did he do?" the other girl wanted to know.

"He kissed me—that's what he did!"

"Freddy! Splendid!"

"Zoe Morton—are you crazy too?"

"Maybe," said Zoe. "But I do think a little attention now and then from a man does any girl a heap of good." She sat down upon the edge of the desk and swung one of her shapely ankles. "I'm telling you, wait for me after the store closes. I'm going to dash for the apartment the moment the gong sounds."

"What's the big rush?" Lavinia asked.

"I've got a date."

"That's nothing unusual."

"I know, but this date is" Zoe signed "Peter Raymond's taking me dancing, and I want hours in which to make myself beautiful."

"She lowered her voice, and added: "I think he's going to ask me to marry him. You know—feminine intuition."

"That man!" Lavinia cried. "Way, Zoe Morton, he doesn't make a penny more than you do, and what's more—"

"No time for a lecture now, darling," said Zoe. "Save your statistics for another time." She hurried to the door. There she paused long enough to call back: "And do, for Heaven's sake, treat Freddy Rand as though he were a human being, and not a menace."

"Man or menace," Lavinia retorted, "I shall continue to treat him as I choose."

"Take A Letter"

SHE shrugged and turned to her work. She touched a button and almost instantly a girl with a notebook appeared.

"Miss Marshall," said Lavinia, "please take a letter."

"Yes, Miss Prentiss."

Lavinia cleared her throat. "Dodge and Dodsworth, Chicago, Illinois," she began. "We have examined your line of toy tanks, bomber planes, and machine guns, and wish to say that we are not interested. It is the policy of Armworth's not to—"

But that evening Lavinia's feeling of pride and well-being gave way to one of annoyance, as she watched Zoe dress for her date with Peter Raymond. She sat in bed with her arms clasped about her drawn-up knees, and thought how utterly silly it was for a girl to go to so much trouble for a mere man. Men weren't worth it. There were so many more things in the world of far greater importance—such as your work, your dreams of becoming a huge success, your career.

Men! All a man ever did was take a girl's time, pay her a lot of empty compliments, and then leave her flat for the first prettier face that came along. Or else he eventually got around to asking her to marry him, and do his cooking and darn his socks, and the divorce courts did them part! Men! No, sir, not for her.

Zoe, she knew, felt quite differently about the matter. Zoe liked men, and she didn't care who knew it. She was forever doling out to go out with this one or that one. But tonight she was especially fussy about her appearance—her makeup, her lipstick, the sheen of her nail polish, her hair-do.

"You'll say yes, I suppose," Lavinia said, breaking the silence between them.

"What?" Zoe turned to face the bed.

"To Peter Raymond, I mean."

"Oh, that!" Zoe laughed lightly. "Of course I will. Haven't I been making a play for him ever since he came to work at Armworth's?"

"Imagine making a play for a man and admitting it!" said Lavinia. "Imagine wasting time trying to attract the attention of a man, when you've got a good job and a chance to advance to an even better one."

Zoe turned back to the mirror. She picked up an atomizer and sprayed perfume about of each faintly ear, in which glowed an imitation pearl.

"Listen, Lavinia," she said, "I may look like one of these modern, streamlined, and self-sufficient females, but down underneath I'm just an old-fashioned girl, who wants a good husband and a comfortable home."

"And a chance to slave without pay, and darned little gratitude!"

"A labor of love, darling—only you wouldn't understand that. I'm afraid."

"I'm afraid I wouldn't," said Lavinia.

Zoe frowned. "Honestly, Lavinia," she said, "to hear you talk one would think men were poison."

"They are," said Lavinia, "so far as I'm concerned. And what more, I think you're out of your mind—planning to marry Peter Raymond."

DISCOVER MEN PROWLING NEAR GUARDED BRIDGE

Two unidentified men who are alleged to have been discovered under the north approach of the Glade Run bridge spanning the Allegheny river, about five o'clock Thursday morning are fortunate to have escaped unharmed.

According to members of the Pennsylvania Reserve Militia, on duty at the structure, when the strangers were first observed, the guard, following out instructions, first blew his whistle for the men to halt. They then climbed the river bank and started running up the railroad track, whereupon the guard shot over their heads as a warning to stop, and when they continued to run he aimed directly at them and fired. Since neither of the men faltered it is assumed that they were unharmed.

The incident should serve as a warning to others not to prowl around structures and plants that are being closely guarded at the present time.

FOUR MEN FROM HERE LOCATED AT NEW FIELD

Four men from Warren are on duty with the bombardment and air base squadrons at Will Rogers Field, new army air force mid-continent bombardment center near Oklahoma City, Okla., making Warren one of the best represented Pennsylvania communities at that place, according to information received today.

Private Howard H. Gross, formerly of 8 South Carver street, is in the air base fire department. Private Matthew Bova, 307 Madison avenue, is a clerk at base personnel headquarters.

Private Robert A. Lee, 119 Dartmouth street, is in the base photographic section and has just been given a fourth class specialist's rating. The fourth man, Private Darrell L. Miller, 29 South South street, is on duty in the electrical shop of the base engineering department.

All four soldiers were sent to Will Rogers Field from the New Cumberland reception center July 17. The base was activated last April and in June was dedicated and named after the late Will Rogers, whose home was near there.

TIMES TOPICS

IN ERIE HOSPITAL
Fred Lauffenburger, 12 Alston street, is in Hamot Hospital, Erie, where he submitted to an operation on his hand which was injured last November.

IN COAST GUARD
According to information received from Buffalo today, James F. Lucke, 217 Liberty street, has enlisted in the U. S. Coast Guard for a period of three years.

AT CONFERENCE
Miss Eleanor Abendroth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abendroth, New street, left yesterday for Miami University, Oxford, O., to attend the Student Christian Movement national conference, a representative of Friends University at Wichita, Kans.

RELIEF PAYMENTS
Direct relief payments made to needy Warren countians during the week ended Wednesday show an increase of $28 over those of the previous week, according to State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner. Payment for the week totaled $247, which was $821 lower than those of the comparable week of last year.

CLUB WILL ELECT
Officers are to be elected at an important meeting of the Cornplanter Gun Club at the outdoor range on the Copham Park road next Monday evening, January 5. There will be other business items, also, and afterward a fish fry. All members are urged to be in attendance.

INJURED IN ACTION
Chester Foy, 250 Pennsylvania avenue west, has received word that his son, John Foy, first class yeoman, in the navy, was wounded in action in the Pacific. The young man has been in the navy eight years, and has a brother serving in the army in the west coast.

INCREASE SUSPENDED
The Public Utility Commission has suspended until April 2 proposed higher rates of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, Pittsburgh, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg. The increase affects domestic, commercial, hospital and church consumers. A final decision on the new rates is to be reached during the suspension period.

STUDENT DIETITIAN
It was announced today that young people from 20 to 35 years of age may obtain free training as student dietitians by applying to the local Veterans Service Bureau. The students receive $420 a year, less $360 for board and room, leaving $60 a month for other expenses. Information may be obtained by calling the Veterans Service Bureau, phone 430.

FOUL SHOOTING TOURNEY TAKEN BY DEAN NELSON

Dean Nelson, member of the Warren High School Dragon cage squad, yesterday won the Y. M. C. A. foul-shooting tournament on the local "Y" court by caging 21 of 25 shots from the charity lane.

Don Lunquist, brother of Bob Lunquist, who is another Dragon member, finished second with 20 shots made in the same number of attempts. Johnny Pick, ex-high school cager now playing with the Warren Pateissons, finished third with 18.

The tourney was run with each contestant given 25 shots at the basket. In case of a tie, an additional 25 shots were to be taken, but no ties were involved in yesterday's event.

Nineteen trophies were received from the following boys by Physical Director Ed Haslet: J. Flick, Don Lunquist, J. Junior Raleigh, Dean Nelson, Gail Samuelson, F. Carlson, J. Bean, M. Rossell, M. Kelsey, "Leak" Conroy, Cal Dawson, Merle Seymour, Johnny Pick, D. Carlson, Alan Blair, G. Stanton, B. Peterson, Louis Dalt, mple and Tony Pratt.

It is planned because the tourney went over successfully though the number of entrants was small, to make the event an annual affair, and the second one probably will be held next New Year's Day. Prizes, consisting of a flashlight for first place and a pair of woolen socks for second, were given by C. Beckley Co. and Pickett Hardware Co., in yesterday's event.

evening. The music was furnished by the Girls Club under the direction of Mrs. Levin, who also entertained the carolers at her home following the entertainment.

A delightful program was also given by the members of the Presbyterian Sunday school on Monday evening. The Christmas story was acted in pantomime by the Primary group while the interme-dies sang the carols. Rev. Prout brought in inspiring Christmas messages. Gifts were exchanged by the members.

Eugene Clancy had the misfortune to lose his Packard by fire recently. The cause of the fire isn't known but the car caught fire in the garage and was discovered by the neighbors who managed to get it out before the building caught.

Mrs. A. H. Maiden left Monday for Washington, D. C., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. S.
McClure and Mr. McClure.

Tony Floney has obtained employment in the Garland factory.
Steel is being delivered for the bridge in Garland.

Miss Ella May of North East is visiting relatives in town.

Schools closed Tuesday for a two week vacation.

Frederick Carlson of Hartford,
Conn., visited relatives in town on Christmas day. His cousin, Norman Taylor met him at Westfield.
He is spending a short vacation with his mother at Youngsville.

Betty Graham of Jamestown, spent Christmas with her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. James Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andrews spent Christmas Day with relatives in Clarendon.

Howard Eastman left Friday for Georgia after spending his first furlough since entering the army six months ago.

Miss Ethel Morris is spending her Christmas holidays with relatives and friends in Cambridge Springs.

The Bristow sisters have been spending the holiday season with relatives in Erie and Meadville.

Rev. Prout received a great surprise on arriving at the Presbyterian church for the usual service Sunday afternoon. His being a little early, no doubt, saved the church from being totally destitute of fire, as Rev. Prout, following the interior of the church on the fire extinguisher he resided in keeping the fire under control until he could call in the fire co. doubt was caused the overheated stove. The church is one of the oldest if not the largest church of any denomination, in the county.

Keith Eldon of the marines died in Garland Monday forcibly with his parents in Spi-rook.

The ladies of the community were delightfully entertained
Miss Ellen Davis at her home. The home was very attractive with Christmas trimmings.
Gifts were exchanged and a delicious lunch was enjoyed. A Patty Goodwill won the hand-spread crocheted by Mrs. M.
Sandrock. Out of town guests
Leah Mann of Warren and M.
Sandrock of Tionesta. A single "thank you" is extended to Davis for this unusually pleasing evening.

A Christmas party was also

Jacob Hesch was made Duell's best man and Stanley Lyle completed the bridal party.

A reception followed at the bride's home at 7:30 o'clock for the bridal party and immediate families. A formal cake of silver and white tins formed the centerpiece for a table attractively done in those colors.

The couple left for an eastern wedding trip and will be at home at 109 Dartmouth street after January 5.

Mrs. Duell, formerly employed by the New Process Company, was graduated from Warren High also guests at the Stronndahl home, having returned to their home in Buffalo, N. Y.

THE PHONE BOOTH MURDER

by Phoebe Atwood Taylor

Chapter 36

Trip To Boston

FREDDY DOANE, followed by her soldier boy friend, rushed out to Asey as he was starting up the front steps.

"Asey, thank heavens you're back, we've simply been going berserk!" Freddy said. "Have you found Miss Olive yet? Where've you been? Why don't you say where you've been and what you've been doing, Asey? Tell us everything!"

"If you'd just give me a chance to open my mouth," Asey said, "I might. Is everything okay here?"

"Comparatively speaking, yes," Freddy said. "I mean, no one else has been killed! Asey, where have you been?"

"Hither an' yon," Asey said. "I seen Bram Reid."

"Oh, we know that! He told us so," Freddy said. "Where else?"

"I dropped in on the oldest inhabitant, Mrs. Harris. Very sprightly ole lady, she is, an'—"

"Yes, yes, we know that! Jennie found that out. And you know you made a million phone calls, too. But where've you been since?"

"I borrowed Bill's plane," Asey said, "an' flew up to Boston an' back. Refreshin' little trip—look, everything's really okay here, is it?"

"Yes, yes! Will you?"

Asey turned around and went back to the car.

"Okay, Miss Olive," he said. "I guess you can come—"

"Miss Olive?" Freddy said. "Is she in there? I didn't see her! Oh, Miss Olive! Oh, I'm so glad—I'm so happy—I'm so relieved! Miss Olive, this is Phil! Miss Olive, where've you been? Where did he find you?"

"I found her a long while ago," Asey said. "About two weeks after I left here—didn't Bram Reid tell you? Huh. Come to think of it, I guess I told him not to, didn't I? Come along, Miss Olive. We might as well get this over with. Come along out to the kitchen an' let's get settled."

Her appearance in the kitchen doorway raised an immediate din, which Asey promptly put a stop to.

"Just a sec," he said, "before you get goin'. Let's have that pincushion, Rankin!"

Rankin's hand came out of his pocket with a gun in it, but before his finger had a chance to squeeze the trigger Washy Doane's rolling pin had knocked him over backwards to the floor.

"Gun was empty," Washy informed Asey. "I unloaded it, like you told me before you left. He never guessed, neither. But I couldn't resist poppin' somebody after all these years—huh. I guess that hit him kind of hard, didn't it, Doc?"

"You know damn well you did!" Cummings said. "And look at the job I've got, stitching him up! There's a pincushion in his pocket, all right. Here, Asey, catch."

He tossed the red tomato pincushion to Asey, who in turn, presented it to Miss Olive.

"Here," he said. "I think if you slice it—yup, I think I'm right. What seems to be a stem is a key. See if it ain't."

With his carving knife, Washy divided the pincushion in two, and, with pride, displayed the thin key imbedded in the wadding.

"What's that for, Miss Olive?" Freddy demanded. "What's that the key to?"

Miss Olive shook her head. "I don't know, dear. I've had the pincushion for years, and never knew of the key's existence. I knew there was a hard stem in the middle, but I never suspected it might be a key! How amazing! It certainly proves that my cousin was quite wrong about the pincushion!"

"What'd you mean?" Asey asked quickly.

"The pincushion was mailed to her about twenty years ago," Miss Olive said. "Just mailed, done up in brown paper, without any sender's address or any explanation at all. My cousin, Mrs. John Beadle, puzzled about it, and finally decided it was one that had belonged to my mother. She'd been Mrs. John Beadle, too, you see—and was supposedly stolen from her by a maid, and that the maid had mailed it back in a fit of conscience. Mr. Mayo, how did you know about the key?"

"Look, Miss Olive," Cummings got up from the floor where he had been kneeling beside Rankin, "how did Asey find you? Where've you been?"

"He stopped me in the village early this morning, as I was driving back here, and took me to his friends the Porters. I've been there until he picked me up a few minutes ago, and really, Miss Olive said rather wistfully, 'I don't know much of anything that's gone on, Mr. Mayo, how did you know about the key?'"

"I guessed," Asey said. "The pincushion wasn't of much value itself, so I figured there must be some thin' of value in it. Couldn't be big, or you'd have found out about it, an' I had a hunch it might be a key. Now, I'm goin' to Rankin's room an' see if he don't have, somewhere among his things, the explanations I still want. So—"

"You see here, Asey Mayo!" Jennie said. "I ain't going to wait a speck longer to understand about all this! I want to know—"

"So do I," Freddy said. "Did Rankin really—"

The clock which had gone on a rampage and struck twenty-two the night before was chiming two when the group, with the exception of Rankin, gathered together in the Inn's living room.

"Of course," Cummings said airily. "I knew all the time it would be Rankin. I said so. I told you countless times. I—Asey, how the hell did you ever find out it was him, anyway?"

"When Jennie gave me the conversation unit, I knew for sure," Asey said, "though I'd had my doubts about him, off an' on, before that. You see, Doc, what Jennie thought was part of a Venetian blind was a Colt forty-five twenty-two conversion unit."

"And what in the name of all that's holy," Cummings demanded, "is that?"

"To Jennie," Asey said with a grin. "It's an integral part of a Venetian blind. Rankin's gun was a forty-five, an' he kept it in his bureau drawer, an' told me so, an' urged me to look at it. You got it there, Hanson? See, it's a Government Model of 1911. Doc, with this unit Jennie found, you can convert it in two shakes into a twenty-two. I don't think there's any doubt it'll turn out that this's the twenty-two that killed both Horace an' Ann Joyce."

"Keen Work"

"I ALREADY found out, while I was waiting for you this forenoon," Cummings said, "that Horace was killed by a bullet from the same gun that killed the girl. Incidentally, I must tell you that Rankin's first words, when he came to, concerned you, Asey. He said he expected you'd be away in the Cape. In fact, he was rather counting on your absence. Tell me, how did you guess about Rankin? When did you begin to suspect him?"

"Wa-el," Asey said, "when the only apparent link I could find between Miss Olive an' the girl was in each of 'em havin' the same picture of the same man with whiskers, an' in each of 'em faintly resembling each other—"

"Why, they both had pointed chins!" Freddy said. "Mother, you spoke of it, one."

"Jennie noticed that," Asey said. "Anyway, you wonder if they're related, an' you think of family. Rankin was a genealogist, an' families was his business. You give me a good shove in the right direction, Doc, when you mentioned the work he did for, an' his diggin' up heirs for estates."

"Asey, is this that sort of thing?" Cummings demanded. "Who's the heir?"

"Way it stands now, Miss Olive—Miss Olive, I mean, I thought to tell you!" Asey said. "It's your mother's sister's estate, an' it's kind of a thumpin' big one, too."

"But I'm afraid," Miss Olive said gently, "that there's some mistake! My mother never had a sister. Of course, my mother died when I was born, but no one ever mentioned her having a sister. I never heard of one!"

"But she did," Asey said. "Know that picture of the stern-lookin' man with whiskers, standin' in front of the spiked fence? An' there's a baby—"

"He was my grandfather, and the baby was my mother."

"An' the older girl was your mother's sister," Asey said.

"How simply amazing!" I remember asking who she was, once, and being told it was a neighbor's child."

"It was your mother's sister," Asey said, "an' your aunt. An' her great-grandchild was Ann Joyce."

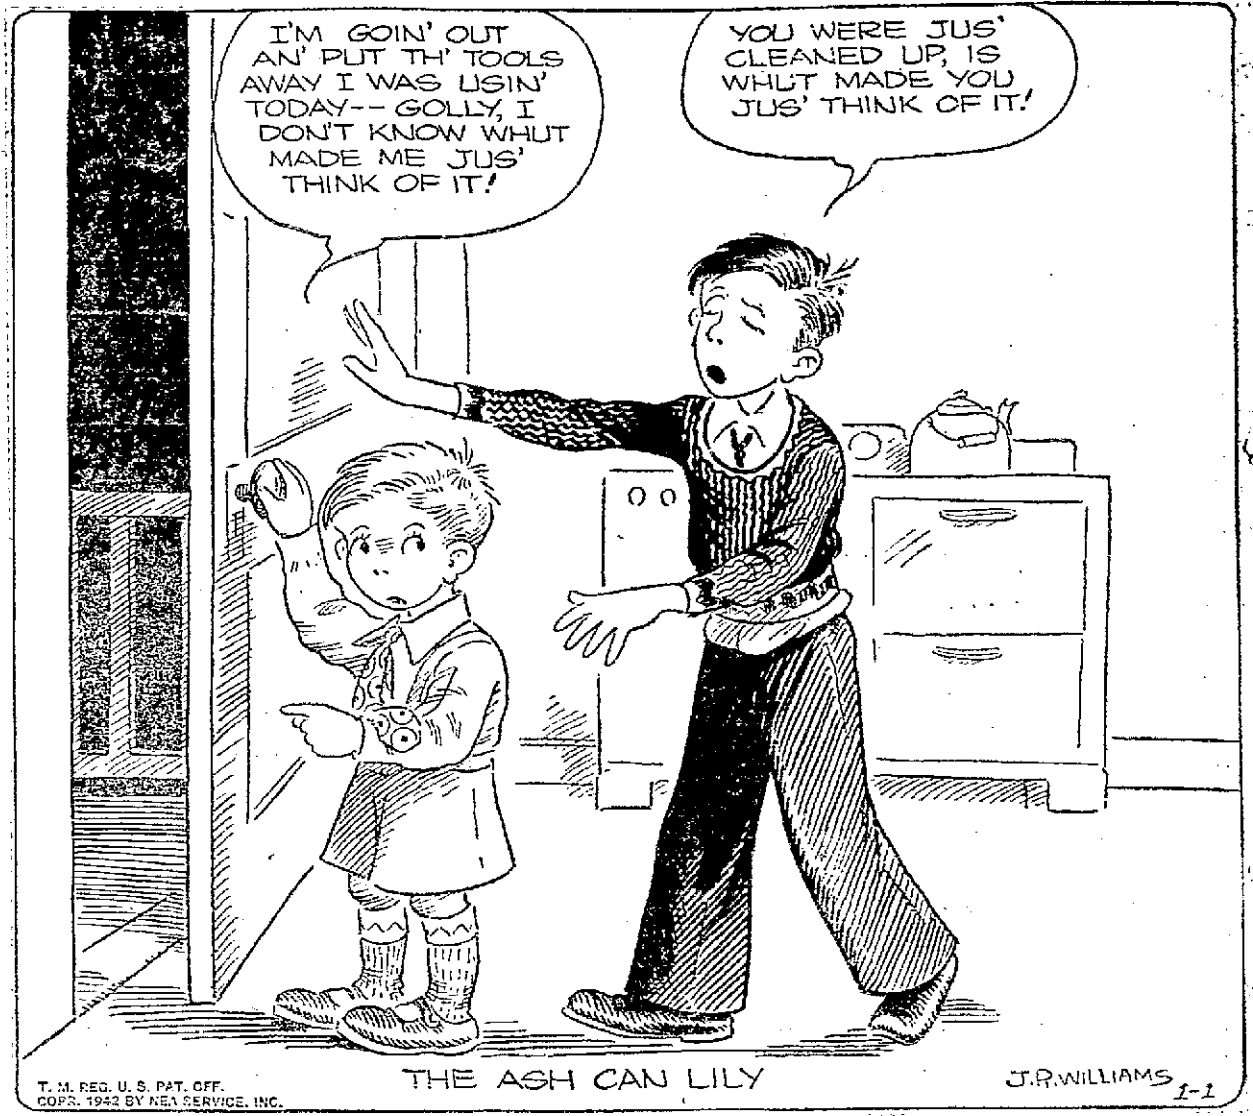

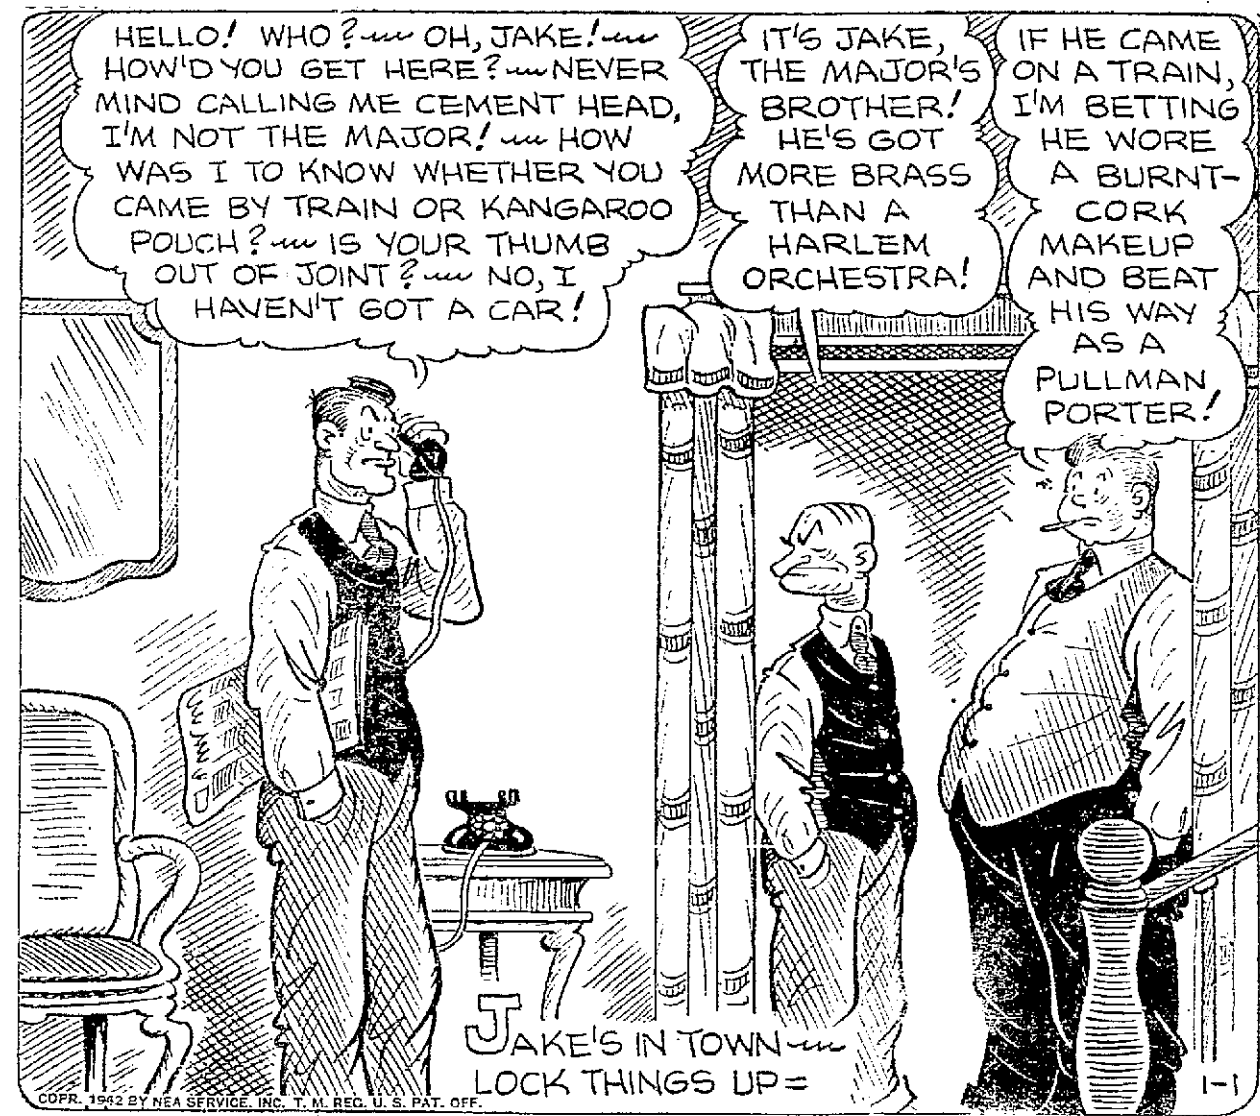

"Now how the hell," Cummings said, in awe, "did you find that out?"

"Angie Harris's mother has a memory," Asey said. "Right off the bat, she recognized the man with the whiskers in the picture I took from Ann Joyce's room. He was the Reverend Henry Upjohn, who once preached in town here, an' he had two daughters. Lucy an' Juanita. Lucy bein' the baby. An' the Reverend Henry's wife died when Lucy was born. Miss Olive, just as your mother, Lucy, died when you was born."

"I knew that," Miss Olive said. "Well," Asey continued, "it seems that one day the Reverend Henry took Lucy visitin', an' when he come home, he found Juanita'd eloped with an itinerant music teacher named Marcy Joyce. That didn't sit well with the Reverend Henry, one bit, so after she run away he disowned her, in effect. That's most likely why your mother wasn't ever told about her errin' older sister. A short time after she run away, the Reverend Henry moved to Baltimore."

GLASS INDUSTRY IS DESCRIBED AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Dec. 31.—"New Markets for Glass" was the subject of an interesting talk given before the local Rotary Club yesterday noon at the regular weekly luncheon meeting in American Legion Home.

The speaker, William Gallagher, general manager of the Pennsylvania Bottle Company factory here and a member of the Rotary Club, said that the new markets consist in large part of the food canning, drug, toilet article and similar container-using industries which because of national defense needs have been denied access to tin, steel and other metals used heretofore in packaging many of their products. This type of industry is rapidly and wherever possible replacing the metal container with that made of glass, the speaker said.

Mr. Gallagher prefaced his central theme with a brief review of the history of glassmaking, tracing the rise and progress of the industry from its early origin in Egypt to its present eminent status in the manufacturing world. He also touched briefly on what effect national defense needs and priorities will have on the local bottle factory, asserting that at present, at least, there are no indications the plant will be unable to obtain the raw materials essential to keeping it in operation.

Sidney Brong, local high school student, was a guest of the club at the luncheon. Glenn Bellman, president of the club, was in charge of the formalities, and the luncheon was served by a Legion Auxiliary committee, of which Mrs. Orabelle Shick was chairman.

TIMES TOPICS

V. F. W. MEETING
The regular meeting of Dinsmore-Schwing Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held this evening at eight o'clock.

POULTRY MEETING
An important meeting of the Warren County Poultry Association will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Hanson Electric Service, Pennsylvania avenue, east. As this is the last meeting before the annual show, a large attendance is expected.

BOROUGH ENDS YEAR WITHOUT FATAL MISHAP

A remarkable record in so far as accidents within the borough are concerned, was achieved during the year 1941 when it was reported today by Chief of Police George Haeim that no fatal accidents appear on his yearly report to be presented at the next meeting of borough council.

It is believed that the year set a record in this respect, no one being able to recall a year when there were no fatal accidents reported in the borough. Many towns and cities smaller than Warren cannot boast such a record, which speaks well for local motorists as well as members of the police department.

In 1940 there were twenty fatal accidents recorded in the borough, while in 1939 four persons were killed in accidents. In 1938 ten pedestrians were struck and killed, while in 1937 two fatal pedestrian mishaps.

Although several minor crashes occurred in the borough over the New Year holiday, none resulted seriously. Many cars received damaged fenders and other small damages.

HOW TO LIVE For Less

Stoke your furnace to cut down coal bills by making a good fire, banking it well and not shaking it too often. (Once or twice a day is enough to dislodge the ash.) To trim the cost of replacing parts, consult your local furnace man on care of equipment. To keep from "heating all outdoors" weather-

TIRE QUOTA IS RECEIVED FOR WARREN COUNTY

Warren county dealers will be permitted to sell only 104 tires and 87 tubes during January under the rationing system set up by the federal government, it was announced today by George E. Cowden, chairman of the county rationing board.

The quota, received from Harrisburg today, includes 32 tires for passenger cars and motorcycles, 27 tubes for light trucks and 72 tires and 60 tubes for heavy trucks and buses.

In the state, the total number of tires to be sold during the month is 20,854.

The tire rationing program begins next Monday.

At the same time word was received here that a ban has been placed on the sale of all passenger cars pending the setting up of a rationing system.

Notification of the ban on car sales was received by Burgess R. W. Steber through the state motor police this morning. The notice, which was sent out by Governor James, was taken to local car dealers by an officer of the police department.

FRACTURES ELBOW HURT IN FALL

Alice Rudolph, of Barnes, was treated at the Warren General Hospital Wednesday evening for a fracture of the right elbow, sustained when she fell near her home.

DIES IN TEXAS

Word has been received by Eugene Crimmins, 117 North South street, of the death of his brother-in-law, Leon Ehrhardt, which occurred on New Year's eve at his home in Goose Creek, Texas. Mr. Ehrhardt formerly resided in Warren. Burial will be at Goose Creek.

RETURNS TO CAMP

Private First Class Sterling Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Olson, Jackson Avenue, has returned to Fort Belvoir, Va. after spending a 15-day furlough here with his parents. Private Olson is a member of the E. R. C. training camp band.

TRUCK BEING PAINTED

The new aerial ladder truck recently purchased for the fire department is at present receiving a bright new coat of paint at Carlson's Body Shop, West street. Work of painting the big truck should be completed in a few days and it will be returned to the Central fire station to receive the finishing touches. Firemen are now engaged in cleaning and varnishing the ladders for the truck.

RED CROSS BUSY

Red Cross headquarters at 404 Market street will start the new year off on Monday morning, with all departments humming with activity. Every section is challenged to do its utmost toward a tremendous quota of work which must be completed within the next two weeks. All organizations which have been meeting at headquarters, all individuals who will help are asked to report promptly Monday for service.

FIRE IN ROOF

The emergency truck of the fire department was called to the Auto Body Repair company, Pennsylvania avenue and Park street, at 7:53 o'clock this morning to extinguish a fire in the roof. The blaze was caused when electric wiring was blown onto the wood by the strong wind. The roof was quite badly damaged. This was the first actual fire of the new year. Although the emergency truck was called out at six o'clock last evening, the trouble was found to be in a switch box at the home of Ann Lowmyer, 1021 Pennsylvania avenue, east, and no fire resulted.

CRASH NEAR GARLAND

Private J. B. Reeder, Pennsylvania Motor Police, investigated an accident which occurred about a mile below Garland on route 27 yesterday afternoon about 4:15 o'clock. A Hudson sedan was slightly damaged about the rear when it struck the guard rails along the highway. The car was driven by William R. Orum, of Titusville. At the same time a Reo truck operated south in the highway by Herbert Clifford Thomas, of Franklin, struck and broke off nine guard rails on the opposite side of the road. According to reports both drivers turned to opposite sides of the road in an effort to avoid what they believed would have been a collision.

Oregon State Calms Duke Blue Devils in Rose Bowl Game

Beavers Score First, Never Are Behind in Registering One of Three Great Upsets

BY FRANK B. GILBRETH
Durham, N. C., Jan. 2.—(P)—They laughed when Coach Lon Stiner of Oregon State sat down hard on the football dopests because they had "underestimated my team". But when Lon's boys started to play, folks, the laughter changed to amazement.

Lon proved convincingly yesterday in the Rose Bowl game that his Beavers, who entered the contest on the short end of 2 to 1 odds, were the most underrated individuals since David slung his sling. The youthful bunch triumphed over a Duke club which had through a nine-game season without a defeat, a tie, or a close call.

Duke made 15 first downs to 14 for the visitors. But the Beavers went out front most of the way, and Duke never forged into the lead.

The first payoff play was a 16-yard romp by left-handed Don Durdan, the Mr. Dependable of the Westerners' squad, on a fake pass in the opening quarter. Warren Simas kicked the placement. Duke knotted the count in the second stanza, on a four-yard reverse by the brilliant Steve Lach, with Bob Gant making the placement. The tally was set up by long runs by Lach and Tom Davis. Then came the third quarter, and one of the wildest chapters in the history of Dixie football, Oregon State went into the lead when Bob Dethman shot a beautiful 31-yard touchdown pass to George Zellick. Simas' kick was good.

Winston Siegfried scored for Duke from the one-yard line, in a touchdown set up by a great run by Lach and a penalty against the Westerners for unnecessary roughness. Tom Prothro's kick tied the score again. But Oregon State again took the lead, this time on a 68-yard pass and run play from Dethman to Gene Gray.

In the last quarter, Duke scored a safety when Durdan, standing in his end zone, got a bad pass from center.

There were no ahims from Coach Wallace Wade. "We lost to a mighty fine ball club," said the Duke mentor.

with 114. Other men's scores were: Leo Minelli, 113; Rusty Adolphson, 112; Pete Juliano, 111; and Randinelli, 109. Vicki Nelson topped the ladies with 106, with these fairer kreglers following in order: Emma Linck, 103; Mrs. Baughart, 96; Mrs. Walsh, 94; and Miss Adelaide Juliano, 85.

A new Red Crown Bowling Carnival opens tomorrow, to last for the usual week. Next week all circuits will resume warfare, and from now on, bowling will start the backstretch of its season.

Many Send Checks for Chicago-All Star Go

New York, Jan. 2.—(P)—Football fans who attend the game between the Chicago Bears and the National League All-Stars for Navy Relief Sunday won't be alone in their contributions to the cause. Checks amounting to more than $300 have been received at Naval Relief Society headquarters in the past few days. Officials say most of the letters came from the city to $5 and are from persons in the middle and far west who could not see the game.

The Dragons' ball-handling ace, Bob Wright, is expected to start tonight's game at his usual center position.

The guards probably will be Jim Urbanski and Bob Lundquist, though Ray Hammerbeck may find his way into the starting lineup in the back court.

In regard to next Tuesday night's league opener here, the Sheffield Wolverines, well drilled under the guidance of their mentor, Joe Massa, battle against Coach Harry Stockdale's unbeaten Youngsville Eagles on the Youngsville floor this evening, and the game may well give local scholastic court followers the inside on the Orange and Black quintet.

The Falconer and Warren second teams will meet in a preliminary contest tonight which is expected to get under way between 7:30 and 8:00 p. m., after which the main game will follow.

Mascot Predicts Win For East Over West

New Orleans, Jan. 2.—(P)—Little Jerry Glynn says the East will win—and that ought to tell most people where to put the blue chips in tomorrow's 17th annual Shrine East-West charity All-Star football game.

Jerry, a 14-year-old kid who looks no bigger than a minute, is the East's self-appointed mascot. If his luck is as good as it has been in the past, the Easterners have the decision wrapped up and packed away before they ever go onto the turf of Sugar Bowl Stadium, for Jerry never has been with a losing team.

Sheffield and Eagles In Important Fracas

Falconer High school comes to Beatty court this evening to provide the last competition for Warren High School's Dragon terrors before the Northern League cage action starts here next Tuesday night with Coach Joe Massa's Sheffield Wolverines as guests.

A fine squad, aggressive and clever, the Falcons promise to complete the six-game warmup program for the locals by giving them plenty of opposition this evening.

Idle since a week ago when they capped their second decision in Beatty by defeating the Collegians in two overtime periods by a 53-31 count, the Kolpiemmen will be out to even their books with a .500 percentage to start their loop play.

Long practice sessions this week with breather yesterday, have been the routine through which both contestants in tonight's fracas have gone, and it was reported today that with both at full strength, they also are at a peak for the encounter.

Falconer, rated about equal in power on the court with the Dragon cagers this year, have a similar record and will come here entertaining the thought of bettering it against Warren.

However, much improved since their opener against Oil City, and playing their third successive home game, the Dragons will rate slight favorites over the invaders, though the margin will not be enough to assure them a victory on their laurels alone.

Martin Smith, who has paced the locals in the scoring department in each of the previous six games, and who now boasts an average of an even 12 points per contest, seems certain to start at one of the forward posts, with either Ted Black or Dean Nelson filling the other position.

The Dragons' ball-handling ace, Bob Wright, is expected to start tonight's game at his usual center position.

The guards probably will be Jim Urbanski and Bob Lundquist, though Ray Hammerbeck may find his way into the starting lineup in the back court.

In regard to next Tuesday night's league opener here, the Sheffield Wolverines, well drilled under the guidance of their mentor, Joe Massa, battle against Coach Harry Stockdale's unbeaten Youngsville Eagles on the Youngsville floor this evening, and the game may well give local scholastic court followers the inside on the Orange and Black quintet.

The Falconer and Warren second teams will meet in a preliminary contest tonight which is expected to get under way between 7:30 and 8:00 p. m., after which the main game will follow.

Pattersons Play at Corry This Evening

The Warren Pattersons, victors over the Corry Steel Age earlier this week in a game played on the local Y. M. C. A. court, will try for their second successive victory over that quintet when they travel to Corry tonight for a return engagement.

Another game will possibly be booked for the Pattersons for tomorrow night at the "Y" in preparation for the contest next week against the World Champion Detroit Eagles.

PIAA REPORTS BIG INCREASE IN WRESTLING

Harrisburg, Jan. 2.—(P)—A decided increase in wrestling was reported today by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association with Executive Secretary Edmund Wicht observing:

"If the growth of wrestling as an interscholastic sport progresses in all districts as it has in District Three, it will take its place with basketball and football as a true major sport, not necessarily in terms of attracting spectators but in attracting boys who enjoy the body contact types of sport."

The Central Pennsylvania District Three wrestling conference was organized in 1937 by five schools and this season will operate with nine teams. No school has repeated as champion. C. A. Brittain of Hershey heads the list of officers serving since the conference's formation.

Growth of District Three wrestling is typical of other regions, prompting a PIAA statement that it might be necessary to have extra bouts precede the regular preliminaries at the state championship tournament to be held March 6-7 at State College.

The PIAA wrestling steering committee recommended extra bout preliminaries on the opening day of the tourney in view of the increased number participating in the sport this year. Formerly there were only preliminaries the first day.

Weights to be wrestled in the PIAA this year will be the same as those listed in the National Collegiate Athletic Association with exception of addition of the 95-pound class and excluding the heavyweight division in place of a 185-pound bracket.

Net weight shall be wrestled up to and including Jan. 31, one pound overweight being allowed thereafter. This applies to all dual meets, tournaments and state finals. The point system adopted by the national rules committee will be used by all high schools in dual meets and tournaments.

Facts and Figures On New Year's Day Football Classics

New York, Jan. 2.—(P)—Facts and figures on the 1942 football games:

Rose Bowl, at Durham, N. C.: Oregon State 20, Duke 16 attendance 56,000.

Sugar Bowl, at New Orleans: Fordham 20, Missouri 0; attendance 73,000.

Cotton Bowl, at Dallas: Alabama 28, Texas A. and M. 21; attendance 38,000.

Orange Bowl, at Miami: Georgia 40, Texas Christian 26; attendance 35,505.

Sun Bowl, at El Paso, Tex.: Tulsa 6, Texas Tech 0; attendance 11,500.

Vulcan Bowl, at Birmingham, Ala.: Langston, Okla. 13, Morris Brown 0; attendance 7,000.

Other New Year's Day games: At Mexico City: Louisiana College 10, University of Mexico 0.

At Jacksonville, Fla.: J. C. Smith 13, Lane College 0.

Punch Line

Second guessing at long range, it seems that Duke's workouts against George McAfee weren't enough to get ready for Don Durdan, the Oregon southpaw pitcher.

... and T. C. U. apparently had heard all about Frankie Sinkwich's running but didn't know he could pass, too. ... Miami reports Frankie showed just one sign of slowing up before the game. That was when Simone Simon, the movie eye-fel, visited the practice field and the photos wanted her to kiss Sinkwich. It took considerable coaxing to get the Croatian Cracker to go for that one. ... Radio announcers had their usual trouble not saying anything about the weather, but they managed to say something every time a new ball was brought into play.

Best line we heard when Bill Stern said an Oregon State penalty was for "clipping, illegal use of the hands and unnecessary roughness."

Today's Guest Star Jack Troy, Atlanta Constitution: "Talk is that Don Hutson, who has a $75,000 establishment at Green Bay, will not play any more football. Chances are however it will be like Betsy Grant's perennial retirements from tennis."

One-Minute Sports Page Mike Jacobs won't event talk about a sellout for the Baer-Louis fight because he still has a lot of tickets left and doesn't want to scare off any customers, but he figures that there won't be many vacant seats if they keep selling at the current rate. ... Stanford's Frankie Albert has been signed to do a movie, "the spirit of Stanford" for Columbia PIX. ... If you don't hear from your favorite baseball writer these days, it probably (Turn to Page Eleven)

Georgia, Fordham, Alabama Score Victories Over Foes In New Year's Day Classics

BY HAROLD CLAASEN
New York, Jan. 2.—(P)—Everywhere but at New Orleans, where Fordham slogged to a 2 to 0 triumph over Missouri, touchdowns in the annual football bowl games yesterday as numerous as New Year's Day headaches.

At Miami Georgia and Texas Christian players popped over the goal line with all the regularity of rabbit running the best of resolutions as the Bulldogs of the Southeast Conference triumphed, 40 to 26.

And Alabama crossed the double stripe four times and Texas A. & M. three times in the Crimson Tide's 29 to 21 Cotton Bowl victory.

The Fordham-Missouri score wasn't a surprise. It was a compliment to the two teams who were forced to play on a field that resembled a Louisiana bayou.

Fordham's two points came early in the first period when Don Greenwood, Missouri end, dropped back to punt and the water-logged boot was blocked by Tackle Alex Sandhill of the Rams. The ball squirted through the end zone before Stan Hittinski, Fordham flanker, got control of it.

That was all the scoring the 73,000 spectators saw although each club gained approximately 150 yards and the sun was passing mid-westerners completed three aeriels in five tries. Alabama used the minimum of effort in turning back the Cadets of Texas A. & M., collecting its four touchdowns while gaining only 75 yards by rushing and passing while registering but a lone first down. The Texans, who could get only three touchdowns, gained 309 yards and 13 first downs.

The Tide's success was a tribute to Jimmy Nelson, their ace back, who scampered 72 yards on a punt return and later registered 21 yards out.

Frank Sinkwich, the broken-jawed All-America halfback, was the difference between Georgia and the Texas Christian, the latter eleven dropping its first bowl decision in four outings.

Three times Sinkwich flipped scoring aeriels and once he broke loose on a 43-yard touchdown jaunt of his own. He and his mates combined for a 40 to 7 lead before the Texans realized the game was under way.

On the other bowl fronts, Tulsa's Missouri Valley Champions lasted for a fourth period touchdown and a 6 to 0 verdict over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl; Langston, Okla., blanked Morris Brown 13 to 0, in the Vulcan Bowl for the Negro championship; and Louisiana College bested the University of Mexico, 10 to 0, in Mexico City for the Orchid Bowl crown.

OREGON STATE LEAVES DUKE WHIPPED "CREAM" OF NATION'S COLLEGE GRID POWERS OF 1941; MASSAMEN, EAGLES HOLD SPOTLIGHT TONIGHT

Another New Year's Day is over, and another busy afternoon for football fans has gone into the record books, with some of the most surprising results ever hoped for. Three of yesterday's four major bowl games ended in unexpected upsets, on top of the disappointment of the fans and the faithful drumbeaters who had tried to stimulate interest in the fracas. Alabama nipped the Texas Aggies 20-21 in the third reversal of form for the day to give Old Man Upset a blazing start in 1942 with a percentage of .750 for the afternoon. So goes football, off to a colorful start, at least, and ready to play its part in the nation's war program through the new year.

Of possibly more interest than tonight's Warren-Falconer clash will be this evening Sheffield-Youngsville battle on the latter school's court. Youngsville, boasting one of the strongest teams in the history of the school, is undefeated in seven starts and owns two decisive victories of 44-22 and 30-15 over Corry High, while Sheffield, unbeaten in three starts, has yet to play a first class foe. Considering the fact that, though the Dragons were wilder than the worst part of Africa when they met Corry's Beavers, they, nevertheless, were defeated and probably couldn't have whipped the Bylerman any worse than did the Eagles, if Sheffield gets past the Red and White machine local fans can expect plenty of trouble for the Kolpiemmen come Tuesday night. Joe Massa has a good team at Sheffield, but just how good it is will be better known tomorrow morning.

Predictions for 1942 . . . With this our first column in the new year, and with new hope and new blood injected into our "he-chance" department, we will offer the following forecasts for 1942. That Bradford High's cagers will meet a big upset along the way in the Northern loop this season, and that Warren High will do much better than most fans presently expect them to. . . That the Detroit Eagle exhibitions here will be a success and will supply the foundation for the comeback of independent ball. . . That Alsab, who yesterday became a three-year-old, will not only repeat Whirlaway's feat of winning the triple crown, to which only seven horses hold a claim, but will also earn more money than 1941's horse of the year. . . That Ben Hogan will repeat as goldfom's leading money winner and will also cop the National Open. . . That the St. Louis Cardinals will win the National League pennant and the New York Giants will comeback strong. . . That the Yankee will retain the A. L. flag and the world championship. . . That if Joe Louis and Billy Conn meet again this year, there'll be a new champ, and that if they don't, Louis probably will retire before the year is over. . . That sports in general will be the backbone of preparing this nation for a hard year and a hard war, and also will enjoy as big a year as in 1941. . . That Minnesota will remain the nation's top collegiate grid team with the Chicago Bears tops among the pros. . . And to get at least one right, that the war will have little effect on local "baseball" . . . Thanks for reading this far.

Cronological Battle for the Capture of Philippines

 bombed for second time; Japanese land attack slackens.

Dec. 18—Manila has first air raid alarm in three days but only light damage caused at Nichols and Zablan air fields; more than 30 planes bomb port of Iloilo on Panay islands; President Manuel Quezon tells people to have confidence in government and people of United States.

Dec. 19—Philippine army in- quaded into U. S. armed forces of the Far East; two waves of bombers raid naval base at Cavite.

Dec. 20—Four transports land troops in Davao, Mindanao island, heavy fighting rages; bombs fall wide of Nichols Field.

Dec. 21—Manila has an hour air raid alarm; Japanese step up activity around Vigan.

Dec. 22—Battle for Manila be- gins, Japanese land troops from 50 transports in Lingayen gulf; American and Philippine more than hold their own in first fighting; fighting especially heavy between Santo Tomas and Danoritis on gulf coast.

Dec. 23—Lingayen fighting very heavy; Dutch planes help Americans at Davao, blowing up one tanker; Japanese planes damage steel bridge at Villasis, 30 miles inland from Lingayen gulf; bridge is longest in Philippines.

Dec. 24—Japanese landing at Alimanan, 75 miles southeast of Manila, announced; 40 transports in bottle; Japanese planes drop heavy bombs in first raid on Manila port area; U. S. headquarters considering declaring Manila open city to escape ravages of bombing; General Douglas MacArthur and staff take field in personal command; Manila has four air raid alarms but crowds complete Christmas shopping.

Dec. 25—Japanese pour more men into Luzon battle; tank units reach area near summer capital of Baguio, another spearhead advancing 25 miles from coast reached Binalonan, only 110 miles from Manila.

Dec. 26—General MacArthur declares Manila open city in proclamation dated Dec. 24; air alarms sound almost constantly in Manila as Japanese strike at nearby objectives; tank battle rages on southern front; artillery duel on northern; anti-aircraft guns in Manila dismounted but Sayre declares "we will fight to the last man."

Dec. 27—Japanese reported with- in 83 miles north of Manila at Moncada; Japanese bombers dis- regard declaration of capital as open city and bomb it for three hours and 17 minutes, many dead and huge fires started in ancient walled city.

Dec. 28—Japanese bomb Manila again in utter disregard of its un- defended status; raid lasts two hours and four minutes, spread fires and ruin; Japanese advance on Southern front, little change on the north.

Dec. 29—"Suicide squads" of young Filipinos hold Japanese at least 48 hours, enabling army to reorganize defenses; Manila has air alarm but no raiders; Japanese instead raid island fortress of Corregidor for two hours; Japanese land new forces in southern Luzon.

Dec. 30—Japanese fight to Luis- iana and Dolores, each about 45 airline miles southeast of Manila; northern battle line runs east and west through Zaragoza, 65 miles above Manila, as defenders leave Lingayen area; President Quezon inaugurated for second term.

Dec. 31—General MacArthur acknowledges Americans and Phil- ipinos "are being pushed back" on northern and southern fronts by Japanese tanks, armored cars, in- fantry and dive bombers; southern battle line only 30 minutes from capital by automobile.

Jan. 2—City formally occupied by the Japanese.
